

Fiscal Year 2009 Adopted Budget for New York City

Summary of Restorations and Reductions to Vital Services for Children and Families

On June 29, 2008, the New York City Council voted to adopt a $59.1 billion budget for City Fiscal Year 2009. The Adopted Budget extends the 7% property tax reduction, continues the $400 property tax rebate and restores $412 million for a variety of programs. This restoration includes $129 million for the Department of Education for proposed reductions to classrooms and $18 million for the New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA) to preserve some of its community based programs for families and seniors. While this $18 million will help NYCHA programs, there is an additional shortfall, of which the impact to children and families is still unknown. In addition, while the Adopted Budget restores $71.4 million for vital services for children and families, there is still a $72.7 million reduction to critical programs that have been serving New York City's most vulnerable children. The chart below details by program area the restorations and reductions.
