CCC's Executive Director, Jennifer March-Joly, Issues Statement Regarding Mayor Bloomberg's State of the City Address

Citizens' Committee for Children of New York (CCC) is pleased that Mayor Bloomberg's State of the City Address clearly stated his commitment to investments in truancy prevention and summer youth employment, as well his desire to work with the state to reform the juvenile justice system in a way that ensures youth are served in their families or communities. We look forward to working with Mayor Bloomberg on these priorities. In addition, we are hopeful that the Mayor's upcoming Preliminary Budget will reflect our shared priorities of keeping New York City's children healthy, housed, educated and safe by protecting investments in programs that positively impact child well-being, such as child care, child abuse and neglect prevention programs, after school programs, child health clinics, and mental health services for children and adolescents.
