Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH)	$1.57 billion $613.65 million city $432 million state $289 million federal $235.91 million grants/categorical $553,000 CD	$35.61 million $36.03 million city ($7.44 million) state $19.01 million other categorical ($276,500) federal CD ($5.28 million) federal other ($6.43 million) IC	DOHMH protects and promotes the health and mental health of all New Yorkers, engaging in prevention activities, providing treatment and public health services, conducting health and safety inspections, and responding to public health and safety threats.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget for DOHMH increases spending to $35.61 million when compared with the current FY'05 Modified Budget. Proposed additions and reductions included in the FY'06 Adopted Budget are outlined below.
School Health Program	$71 million $46 million city $25 million state		The School Health Program provides a range of education, preventive and primary care services in New York City schools.
Revenue Maximization School Health Program		$7.3 million $4.7 million city $2.6 million state $0 federal		The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $4.7 million for the school health program of which $2 million will allow for the restoration of funding to FY'03 levels when the Department eliminated vacant nursing positions. Approximately $2.5 million will be allocated to hire additional nurses in existing schools and $195,000 is allocated to hire 4 registered nurses, 3 public health aids and one supervisor for placement in seven newly opened elementary and intermediary schools. Notably the FY'06 budget assumes that an additional $2.5 million needed for nurses for general population students during the summer session will be self-funded by the agency and will trigger a $1.4 million match in state funds.	The FY '05 Adopted budget restored $2.5 million for nurses for general population students during the summer session.
		$1.8 million $1.17 million city $658,000 state $0 federal		The FY'06 Adopted Budget transfers $1.17 million in city funds from DOE to DOHMH in an effort to maximize state Article VI funding and in doing so enhances support for school health programs and initiatives related to obesity, asthma, vision screening, and nutrition.	Previously this funding was in the Department of Education's budget and therefore could not be used to draw down state Article VI reimbursement.

School Based Health Clinics		$838,000 $536,000 city $302,000 state $0 federal	School-based health clinics provide primary and preventive care to adolescents, a population of students who otherwise do not have access to school nursing services. The clinics maintain an enrollment of nearly 90% of the student body in each school served, and there is one located in a high school in each of the five boroughs.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget baselines $536,000 in city funds for 5 privately run clinics, ensuring that school health clinics at the following high schools remain in operation: Franklin K. Lane in Queens, Wingate in Brooklyn, New Drop in Staten Island, Theodore Roosevelt in the Bronx, Thurgood Marshall in Manhattan.	In 1990, the Council invested $1.2 million in five school-based health clinics. In FY'02, the City Council added $500,000 to fund operation of School Based Health Clinics. In FY '03, the Mayor's contingency plan targeted these clinics for cuts, which was ultimately not implemented. In FY'04, the Council restored $268,000 in city tax levy funds to maintain funding for 5 school-based health clinics, enabling them to remain open. In the FY'05 Adopted Budget the City Council restored $536,000 in city funds to support subsidies for 5 privately run clinics. City subsidies comprise between 20-50% of the clinics' operating budgets.
Lead Poisoning Prevention	$7.1 million $5.6 million city $1.5 state $0 federal	$3.0 million $2.4 million city $628,000 state $0 federal	Founded in 1970, the Lead Poisoning Prevention Program conducts outreach and education to promote lead screening of children and safe lead abatement practices by landlords. While the number of childhood lead poisoning cases has decreased over the last decade, only 27% of children are tested in accordance with state law. In addition, children of color and low-income communities have disproportionately high levels of childhood lead poisoning.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayor add of $2.4 million to address lead inspections, outreach and education in day care centers licensed by DOHMH, as well as assessment and referrals for lead abatement. DOHMH figures show that 7,657 children ages 6 months to less than 6 years had elevated levels of lead in their blood, and 817 children were newly identified as being lead poisoned. These numbers may be under reported because State Law only requires a small number of children be tested for lead poisoning levels each year.	In FY'01, the Council restored $1 million for increased public education about lead testing. In FY'02, no action was taken. In the FY'03 adopted budget, a $250,000 cut in city funds (which triggered a loss of $141,000 in state funds) led to the closure of a lead safe house, a place for families to go while lead hazards in their homes are being abated. In February 2004, City Council passed Local Law #1 of 2004, the New York City Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Act over the Mayor's veto. This legislation adopts stricter standards for detection and removal of lead hazards. In FY'04, the Mayor restored $500,000, rescinding the FY'04 Executive Budget proposal to reduce lead poisoning prevention and outreach staff. The FY '05 Adopted Budget includes the addition of $7 million ($1.58 and $5.4 million city) to fund the implementation of the city's new Lead paint Law. Of the $7 million (city), $5.4 million (city) services supported by this funding will include: outreach and education, lead inspections, in day care centers licensed by DOHMH, assessments and referrals for abatement and will fund lead inspections of approximately 2,700 day care centers licensed by DOHMH.
Asthma Initiative	$852,000 $545,000 city $307,000 state $0 federal	$852,000 $545,000 city $307,000 state $0 federal	Established in 1997, the Asthma Initiative collaborates with city agencies and community-based organizations and conducts public education as well as professional continuing education to train parents, health providers, and others about the detection and treatment of childhood asthma.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $445,000 and includes a City Council add of $100,000 in city funds to support screening, education, and case management activities designed to address the disproportionately high rate of asthma in targeted neighborhoods in the Bronx, Central Brooklyn and Harlem.	According to DOHMH, approximately 300,000 NYC children are afflicted with asthma. In study released in 2003 and conducted by Harlem Hospital found that 25.5% of children in Central Harlem have asthma. In FY'98, FY'99 and FY '01, the City Council consistently expanded funding for children's asthma programs. These investments ranged from $1.5 million to $2.3 million. No action was taken in FY'02 or FY'03. In FY'04, the Mayor restored $200,000, rescinding his Executive Budget proposal to allow asthma case management contracts to expire and address the disproportionately high rates of Asthma in East Harlem. In FY'05 the City Council restored $445,000 in city funds to support the asthma initiative - this funding has historically supported programs providing screening, referrals, and case management services to approximately 400 children.
NYU Mobile Dental Van	$419,000 $268,000 city $151,000 state $0 federal	$419,000 $268,000 city $151,000 state $0 federal	The NYU dental vans provides dental care to medically underserved children citywide.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $268,000 in city funds to provide support for the operation of 34 mobile dental vans.	In the FY'05 Adopted Budget the City Council restored $268,000 for mobile dental vans.

Preventable Disease Initiatives		$1.9 million $1.2 million city $686,000 state $0 federal	The Department supports many small disease prevention initiatives.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget baselines $1.2 million in city funds to continue these initiatives. Approximately $480,000 will support personal service costs associated with maternal and infant health programs.	Within DOHMH disease prevention initiatives include, but are not limited to: maternal and infant health programs, as well as tobacco cessation, colonoscopy screening etc. Historically the agency has used one time grants and accruals to support these small targeted preventative initiatives.
Community Based Mental Health Services for 0-5 year olds	$1.19 million $1.19 million city $0 state $0 federal	$1.19 million $1.19 million city $0 state $0 federal	This is a City Council created initiative that is intended to respond to a shortage of outpatient mental health treatment services for children ages 0 to 5 years.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $1.19 million to support services to young children in 4 or more community based outpatient mental health treatment clinics.	In the FY'05 Adopted Budget added $1.2 million to enable community-based mental health clinics in Brooklyn and the Bronx to expand mental health service delivery to 0-5 year olds. Current state Medicaid financing restrictions severely constrain the ability of community-based and hospital-based mental health clinics to expand children's outpatient treatment services to meet demand.
Healthy Women/Healthy Babies Initiative	$2.9 million $1.9 million city $1.08 million state $0 federal	$2.9 million $1.9 million city $1.08 state $0 federal		The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $1.9 million to support the Healthy Women Health Babies Initiative. This initiative is designed to reduce the incidence of unwanted pregnancies through increased awareness and access to family planning and emergency contraception.	New Initiative.
Family Planning and Outreach	$1.4 million $898,000 city $502,000 state $0 federal	$1.4 million $898,000 city $502,000 state $0 federal	The Community Healthcare Network Provides comprehensive family planning and outreach to targeted communities.	The Adopted Budget baselines $530,000 to support Community Healthcare Network Family Planning and Outreach programs. These funds will continue to allow targeted efforts reduce the rate of unintended pregnancies and STDs among uninsured women in Mott Haven and Washington heights to continue. Additionally, the FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a City Council add of $368,000 to provide reproductive health and pregnancy prevention services for uninsured and high-risk teens.	In FY'05 the Adopted Budget added $530,000 to support family planning and outreach in Mott Haven and Washington Heights.
Infant Mortality	$7.5 million $4.8 million city $2.7 million state $0 federal	$7.5 million $4.8 million city $2.7 million state $0 federal	The Infant Mortality Initiative funds community based organizations (CBOs) to provide outreach, education, and referral services in communities with high rates of infant mortality - specifically targeting communities that demonstrate racial and ethnic disparities.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $2.8 million and includes a City Council add of $2 million to support outreach, education, and referral services provided by 31 community based organizations in communities with high infant mortality rates. The new funding will emphasize work in the Bronx.	In 2000, the citywide infant mortality rate was 6.7 per 1,000 live births, but the rates in 24 communities ranged from 10.3 to 16.4 per 1,000 live births. In FY'02, the City Council created the Infant Mortality Initiative with an investment of $3.2 million in city tax levy funds, which had a state match of $1.8 million and brought the total original allocation for the Initiative to $5 million in FY'02. In each year since its inception, the Mayor has targeted the Infant Mortality Initiative for cuts, and City Council has made restorations that to enable the Initiative to continue. In the FY'03, the Council restored $2.5 million (preserving $1.4 million in state funding) and the Mayor added $1.1 million to bring the program up to the original funding levels. In the November FY'03 Budget Modification, the Council restored $287,000 in city funds for the Initiative, preserving $161,000 in state funding. In FY'04, $5 million in total funds was restored to maintain funding for the Initiative. In FY'05 $2.8 million in city funds were restored at adoption.

Early Intervention Program	$508.7 million $157 million city $122.9 million state $3 million federal $225.8 million Medicaid/Third Party		The Early Intervention program is a system of early identification and treatment for infants and toddlers with developmental disabilities or delays or at-risk of a developmental delay. These services include speech, physical and occupational therapy, audiology, vision services, psychological services, health, nursing and nutrition services, special instruction, social work and respite services as well as family training, counseling and parent support groups.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget proposes total funding of $508 million for the EI program of which $157 million are city funds.	A network of approximately 150 contract agencies currently provide services, evaluation, and service coordination to 40,000 children and families annually.
Revenue Maximization		($2.7 million) ($9.7 million) city ($283,000) state $7.34 million Medicaid  $1.28 million $1.2 million $80,000 state $0 federal		The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes several revenue maximization initiatives such as: (1) saving $9.7 million in city funds through the recovery of lost Medicaid revenue due to previously rejected claims. (2) Committing an increase of $1.2 million in city funds to support staffing in the new revenue maximization unit supporting the baselining of funds for facilitated enrollers of EI and 4 new positions for revenue maximization staff.
Early Intervention Caseload Reestimate		($91.9 million) ($34.5 million) city ($54.6 million) state $3 million federal ($5.8 million) Medicaid		The FY'06 Adopted Budget projects $34 million in city savings as a result of an EI program caseload re-estimate. The projected rate of growth in EI services is reduced from 7.5% to 2% in 2005 and 3% in FY'06 and the out years. Savings are attributed to the anticipated decline in the growth of the number of participants in the EI program. Referrals which has been previously projected to grow, are down 2 percent from FY'03 to FY'04 and are now projected to level off at 23,000 for the foreseeable future. Savings are also attributed to increase Medicaid reimbursement for EI services, as the overall EI budget for FY'06 will reflect MA reimbursement of 45 % up from 38 % in the current year.

Health and Hospitals Corporation (HHC)	$4.8 billion expense $4.25 billion revenue $3.7 billion in third party revenue $363.4 million in grants $139.7 million city		HHC is the largest public hospital system in the country, operating 11 acute care hospitals, community clinics, diagnostic and treatment centers, long-term care facilities and a home health agency. In 2003, HHC served more than 1.2 million people.	HHC ended FY'05 with a cash balance of $449 million and will commence FY'06 with this same cash balance of $449 million. Yet, HHC anticipates ending FY'06 with a cash balance of $294 million. The projected decrease in HHC's cash balance reflects anticipated gap closing needs. In short, if HHC fails to achieve savings via the gap closing efforts identified below, the cash balance will be drawn upon to ensure successful closure of the identified gap between revenue and expenditures.  The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a gap between HHC revenue and expenditures of $428 million. HHC plans to substantially reduce this projected gap as HHC expects to receive (1) $265 million from a number of state and federal actions; (2) $100 million in savings from the continuation of a hiring freeze and management initiatives; (3) $50 million in revenues from improved third party collections; and (4) $35 million in additional revenue from initiatives with other city agencies.	NYC HHC provides medical, mental health, and substance abuse services to NYC residents, regardless of their ability to pay. HHC operates 11 acute care hospitals, 4 long term care facilities, 6 diagnostic treatment centers, a certified home health program, and more than 100 community based primary care, dental, child health clinics throughout the 5 boroughs.
Interpreter Services	$1.34 million $1.34 million city $0 state $0 federal	$1 million $1 million city $0 state $0 federal	Interpreter services are currently available in select HHC hospitals participating in a demonstration: Bellevue, Gouverneur. In addition to hiring staff from the community, HHC has also employed Temis (an electronic interpreting system).	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a City Council add of $1 million in expense dollars and $890,000 in capital to expand TEMIS to Kings County hospital. to to Temis, a simultaneous translation system and $890,000 allocated to the capital budget. Over 1.5 million city residents, 22% of the population speak little or no English. Expense additions build on existing resources of $336,286 in city funds for a total expense budget allocation of $1.3 million.	Interpreter service demonstration projects began in 1999 at Gouverneur and expanded to Bellevue in 2004. A centerpiece of the demonstration project is TEMIS "Team Technology Enhanced Medical Interpreting Services. TEMIS provides remote medical interpretation in Spanish, Cantonese, Mandarin, Fukinese, Bengali to all outpatient clinics and 21 bed nursing facility at Gouverneur and Bellevue emergency services, ambulatory clinics, inpatient and procedure areas.

Child Health Clinics	$14.5 million $9 million city $5.5 million state $0 federal	$8.8 million $6 million city $2.8 million state $0 federal	Child Health Clinics (operated by HHC) are ambulatory care sites that have for decades provided preventive and primary care to children and adolescents from low-income, immigrant, and working families. In FY'04, there were 30 Child Health Clinics.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $5.3 million to Child Health Clinics and includes a City Council add of $700,000 in city funds to enhance services. It is important to note that this funding appears in the DOHMH budget and is passed through to HHC for operation of the Child Health Clinics.	Every year since FY '99, the Council has restored resources for the CHCs and protected them from cuts and closures proposed by the Mayor. In the FY '03, the Council restored $5.5 million for Child Health Clinics. In the FY '04, the City Council restored $2.9 million in city funds to save 12 of the city's 30 Child Health Clinics operated by the Health and Hospitals Corporation, with state matching funds of $1.6 million a total of $4.5 million was restored for the Child Health Clinics ($1 million lower than FY'03 funding levels). The FY'04 Budget cut $3.1 million in city funds (triggering the loss of $1.1 million in state funds) eliminating the DOHMH pass through to HHC to Communicare Clinics. Finally, in March 2004, the Mayor restored $200,000 in funding for the Child Health Clinics in the existing city fiscal year. In FY'05 HHC plans to begin charging fees based on a sliding scale at Child Health Clinics. In FY'05 an agreement was reached between the City Council and the Administration to maintain services at child health clinics. Although the FY'05 Adopted Budget cut $5.3 million in city tax levy, HHC pr by drawing on a $200 million enhancement added to HHC's overall budget.
Adolescent Substance Abuse Treatment Clinics		$1.55 million $1.55 million city $0 state $0 federal $890,000 City Capital	These clinics provide outreach, assessment, counseling, and after-school services to approximately 150 teenagers.	The total FY'06 Adopted Budget for Substance Abuse Treatment Clinics serving all populations is $12.9 million total, which includes $7.9 million from the city. Overall the FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $5.8 million to clinics including a $1.55 million restoration in city funding for adolescent substance abuse clinics at Harlem and Lincoln Hospitals, which provides services to approximately 150 teenagers.	The Adolescent Substance Abuse Clinic at Harlem Hospital was originally funded in FY'99 and opened in FY'00. The Adolescent Substance Abuse Clinic at Lincoln Hospital was originally funded in FY'00. In the FY'05 Adopted Budget the City Council restored $1.55 million to ensure that these programs could continue to serve adolescents in need of treatment.
HHC Pharmacies and Medication Waivers	$3 million $3 million city $0 state $0 federal	$2.4 million $2.4 million city $0 state $0 federal	In 2001, HHC began to require families to pay a $10 administrative pharmacy fee for each new prescription or refill, with a maximum of $40 for four or more medications. This fee left many families who were unable to pay without medication.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $2.4 million to continue to provide availability of administrative fee waivers for prescriptions needed by uninsured patients. With these resources, HHC will be able to continue to waive the administrative fee for families that are unable to pay, ensuring that children and families will receive the medication that they need.	In FY '02, the Council restored $1.8 million cut by the Mayor and added $1.2 million to enable HHC to waiver fees for more families. In the FY '03 adopted budget, the Council restored $250,000 to this program. In FY'04, the Council restored $713,000 to continue to provide uninsured families with administrative fee waivers for outpatient medication. In FY'05 the City Council restored in its entirety the proposed $1.3 million in cuts to the program.

Administration for Children's Services (ACS)	$2.19 billion $601.07 million city $523.66 million state $1.04 billion federal $27 million IC	($153.6 million) ($20 million) city $27.41 million state ($210,064) other categorical ($14.08 million) federal CD (132.74 million) federal other ($13.8 million) IC	ACS is a mandated first responder - a 911 system for abused and neglected children in New York City. ACS investigates reports of abuse and neglect and responds to the immediate needs of children and at-risk families. The agency also provides Head Start and child care to eligible children and families. This section of the impact analysis discusses only child care program areas.	The total FY'06 Adopted Budget for ACS is $153.6 million lower than the current budget for FY'05. Details on all additions and reductions related to child care and Head Start services included in the Adopted Budget for FY'06 are provided below.
Child Care Services:	Total: ACS and HRA Child Care  $709.4 million total $215.4 million city 174.8 million state $319.2 federal  -	Total: ACS and HRA Child Care  ($12.3 million) total ($2.5 million) city $3.4 million state ($13.2 million) fed		The city's FY'06 Adopted Budget for child care services (at both ACS and HRA) is $12.3 million lower than the modified budget for FY'05 due primarily to significant reductions in federal child care resources. To make up for a shortfall of $61 million that resulted from the state's FY'06 Adopted Budget, the city's FY'06 Adopted Budget utilizes $20 million in previously unanticipated federal Community Development Block Grant funds and $41 million from a federal Title IV-E settlement.	The FY'04 Budget for ACD reduced city funds for child care services by $35 million ($15 million of the cut was tied to restructuring and $20 million to subsidy reductions and increased parent fees). The FY'04 Budget also targeted for transfer to DYCD, $44 million in city funds for school age child care. In FY'04 only $6 million of the $44 million transferred to DYCD and $30 million remained at ACD - due to implementation delays. The FY'05 Adopted Budget decreased child care funds at both ACD and HRA by $86 million, through a combination of slot reductions, parent fees and the transfer of resources for school-age child care to DYCD as a part of the Mayor's Out-of-School-Time (OST) Initiative.
Administration for Children's Services (ACS) - Agency for Child Development (ACD)	ACD $454.6 million total $149.7 million city $6.9 million state $298 million federal	ACD ($17.7 million) total ($4.7 million) city $3.6 million state ($16.6 million) federal	Through its Agency for Child Development (ACD), ACS provides child care and Head Start services to promote child development and school readiness and assist families achieve and maintain employment. Services are funded through vouchers and contracts with not-for-profit agencies, which are monitored to ensure program quality, fiscal integrity and environmental safety.
Human Resources Administration (HRA) - Family Independence Administration (FIA) (The information listed below refers to child care and Head Start services administered by ACS, Agency for Child Development)	HRA $254.8 million $65.7 million city $167.9 million state $21.2 million federal	HRA $5.3 million $2.2 million city ($.2 million) state $3.4 million federal	Through its Family Independence Administration (FIA), the Human Resources Administration (HRA) also provides child care subsidies in the form of vouchers to families receiving public assistance and those transitioning to work from welfare.

Parent Child Care Fee Reduction		$1.9 million $1.9 million city $0 state $0 federal		The FY '06 Adopted Budget baselines $1.9 million in city funds to ensure that parents with two or more children in subsidized child care do not face a fee increase.	In FY '04 and FY '05, the City Council restored a proposed $1.9 million cut in city spending that would have resulted in an increase in parental fees for child care. The Council's restoration eliminated the proposed surcharge of up to 33% for parents with two or more children in subsidized child care.
Family Child Care		($10 million) ($10 million) city $0 state $0 federal	These funds have been utilized to support a 1,400 expansion of family child care	The FY '06 Adopted Budget restores $10 million in city funds allocated by the City Council in FY '05 to support an expansion of child care slots for low-income children and families.	In FY '05, the City Council allocated $10 million for a badly needed expansion of child care slots.
School-Age Child Care	$40 million $25 million city $0 state $15 million federal	$40 million $25 million city $0 state $15 million federal	School-Age Child Care programs serve children ages 6-12.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget maintains $25 million in city funds at ACS for school-age child care and it causes a $15 million city tax levy reduction, (projected cost savings associated with the transfer of school-age child care to DYCD and the OST initiative) with federal resources. The first phase of the OST initiative and the transfer of school-age child care classrooms commenced July 2005.	In FY '04, the Out-of-School-Time initiative cut $59 million in funds for school age child care from the ACS budget. $44 million was to transfer to DYCD for afterschool programs as part of Mayor Bloomberg's Out-of-School-Time initiative. However, only $6 million was actually transferred in FY'04. At the time the administration anticipated that this initiative would both serve additional children and reap a savings of $15 million.  The FY '05 Budget maintained in ACD, $19 million of the proposed FY'04 transfer of $44 million school age child care dollars to DYCD. The FY'05 Budget also added back $15 in state and federal funding to address the $15 million city tax levy cut to child care services, due to the delay in implementation of the OST Initiative. Originally scheduled to take place in September 2004, OST has a new start date of September 2005.

Collective Bargaining for Child Care Employees		$20.54 million $20.54 million city $0 state $0 federal		The FY '06 Adopted Budget invests $20.5 million in city funds to increase the salaries of employees in contracted child care programs. These funds resolve a four-year labor dispute and provide a 14% salary increase for staff of the city's center-based subsidized child care programs over the term of the contract. More specifically, the contract provided a 9% general raise increase effective January 1, 2005, a one-time $1,000 lump sum cash payment, a 3% general raise increase effective January 1, 2005, and a 2% general wage increase effective April 1, 2005 to be funded with productivity improvements to include an 11% reduction to the starting salary, a 3-day per year reduction in sick leave, and a 2-day per day reduction per year in annual leave for new hires.	These funds resolve a four-year labor dispute.
Head Start	$147.6 million $0 city $0 state $147.6 federal		Head Start is a federally funded program that provides early care and education to low-income children age 3 to 5 based on a model of developmentally appropriate care, prepares children for school by providing them with educational and social skills and works with the entire family to support children's development.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget allocates $147.6 million in federal funds for the Head Start program.	Head Start served approximately 18,500 children in 189 Head Start centers in 2003, and 19,000 children in 2005.

The 3rd grade intervention program provides specialized small group literacy, and math instruction during school hours. Out-of-school time math and literacy instruction, and books, materials and professional development are also provided to reinforce vocabulary development.	The FY '06 Adopted Budget baselines $20 million in city funds to the Early Grade Class Size Reduction program to support the increase in 3rd grade students resulting from the 3rd grade retention policy.	In FY '05, the City Council added $10 in city funds to the Adopted Budget to lower class size in the early grades. In combination with $25 million in city funds allocated by the Administration's third grade program, these funds were intended to allow the school system to maintain current 3rd grade class size while accommodating 11,000 held-back students and to reduce class size in grades K - 3 by forming the equivalent of 225 kindergarten to third grade classes and to provide interventions to third graders at risk of being held back.  The state contributes $143 million for a similar initiative aimed at reducing class size in grades k - 3, as part of the LADDER initiative that also funds Universal Pre-Kindergarten.

As a result, YDDP no longer exists as a stand alone program. The FY'06 Adopted Budget also shifted $25 million back to ACS due to a delay in program implementation.	In FY'04, the city initiated an effort to restructure the delivery of after school and youth services with a total of $76.5 million ($44 million ACS school-age child care, $22 million YDDP and $10.5 After-Three program). This included a $15 million cut to ACS school age child care. Additionally, only $6 million of the $44 million in ACS funds was transferred in FY'04. The FY'05 Adopted Budget included $45 million to support OST restructuring, approximately $31 million lower than the initial proposal advanced in the FY'04 Adopted Budget. With $6 million of the $44 million already in DYCD, the city also shifted an additional $19 million (for a total of $25 million) to DYCD from ACS and held the remaining $19 million at ACS due to a delay in the OST planning process. In early 2005, DYCD released an RFP with a total of $64 million which was approximately $12.5 million lower than the initial proposal advanced in the FY'04 Adopted Budget. DYCD has awarded OST contracts and is advancing a Sept. 2005 start date despite the following concerns: 1) lack of adequate funding to 2) lack of transition planning and prep time between and 3) negative impact and destabilization of child care system.

Without these funds, the number of slots funded by city tax levy would have decreased by 6,000 (from 16,000 to 10,000) this summer. The FY'06 Adopted Budget also includes a City Council add of $6.98 million in order to serve 5,500 more youth for a total of 38,500 summer jobs citywide. With approximately 70,000 applications received last year, the city has not been able to support the full demand for summer jobs.	In FY'01, the city funded 50,000 jobs with $7.2 million in city funding plus federal Workforce Investment Act (WIA) funds and $22 million in state funding. In FY'02, the Mayor allocated $10 million in city funding for summer jobs for youth which supported approximately 20,000 summer jobs in the summer of 2002. The FY'03 November Budget Modification replaced $2 million in city funding with state and federal TANF funds. The FY'03 Budget restored $2.1 million to the Summer Jobs for Youth Program (SYEP) and enhanced city funding by an additional $8 million. This allocation was on top of the $7.9 million in the agency's budget which historically supported the LEAP/JOY program.  The FY'04 Budget eliminated the Department of Employment (DOE) and transferred funds for youth employment services from the DOE to DYCD. In FY'04, the City Council restored a $10 million reduction which enabled the city to serve 39,000 youth for a total of $42.2 million- $16.2 in city funding, $15 million state and $11 million WIA. Funding for individual Beacons has declined by more than 10% since '91, even as overall costs have risen and contract requirements have increased.  In FY '01, 02 and 03 the Adopted Budget maintained funding for the Beacon Schools Program. In the FY'03 November Budget Modification the Council restored $2.7 million for Beacons. In FY'04, the Council restored $8.1 million which prevented a cut of $100,000 to each of the city's 80 Beacons. The FY'05 Adopted Budget also restored $8.1 million to the Beacon program.

Department of Probation	$79.5 million $59.8 million city $15.9 million state $3.7 million federal	($3.53 million) ($2.4 million) city ($381,571) state ($463,047) federal other ($293,076) million intra city sales	The Department of Probation monitors and enforces conditions of probation. The Department is required to supply information and recommendations to the courts on both adult and juvenile cases. Pre-sentence investigations are prepared for the Family Court to aid in the decision making on delinquency, Persons in Need of Supervision, custody visitation and abuse and neglect cases. The Department provides intake services, investigation and or probation supervision for more than 21,000 juveniles each year.	The FY 06 Adopted Budget is $3.53 million higher than the FY'05 modified budget for DOP.	The FY'03 Adopted Budget eliminated several programs for youth including the Juvenile Alternative to Court Program, Juvenile Community Service Unit, and the Juvenile Substance Abuse and Violence Deterrence Program, all of which worked to decrease recidivism. The FY'04 Adopted Budget proposed to merge the Department of Probation with the Department of Corrections. The total agency budget for DOP was $75.1 million.
Alternative-to-Placement Initiative	$5.8 million $5.8 million city $0 state $0 federal	$2.8 million $2.8 million city $0 state $0 federal	Alternative to Placement programs provide an alternative to out-of-home placements in OCFs detention facilities. Youth are supervised in a home-based setting and are connected to services within their community.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $2.8 million for Alternative to Placement (ATP) programs (Esperanza and Enhanced Supervision Program) FY'06 and the outyears to continue expansion from 150 to 591 juveniles served that began in FY'05. A corresponding savings is expected to occur in DJJ's budget because as more youth are accepted into the ATP programs, DJJ will be sending fewer youth to State facilities.	The programs which supervised 150 juveniles in FY'04, were targeted for expansion in FY'05 and the outyears, when capacity increased to 591 (375 in ESP and 216 Esperanza). In FY'05, funding was increased by $1.9 million to support this increase.
Department of Juvenile Justice	$97.62 million $67.38 million city $29.56 million state $688,336 federal $0 intra-city sales	($1.74 million) $148,131 city $495,499 state ($85,399) federal - CD ($2.3 million) federal other	The Department of Juvenile Justice provides detention, post detention and delinquency prevention services to juveniles ages 7 to 15 in New York City. The Department operates three secure detention and 14 non secure detention facilities located throughout the City.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget reduces total agency funding for DJJ by $1.74 million.	In FY+Ar' 03, DJJ's total agency budget was $107.8 million and in FY'02 $103 million. DJJ's Adopted Budget for FY'04 was $99.4 million. In Fy'05 DJJ's total agency budget was $101.3 million.

Details on increases to non-secure detention are outlined below:	As a result of a shortage of non-secure detention beds, DJJ began placing NSD eligible youth in secure detention in the late nineties. The Jamie B. lawsuit was brought against the city and state to challenge the practice. Subsequently a settlement required the city to increase the number of beds to 176.

Increases in NSD contracts		$1.04 million $523,500 city $523,500 state $0 federal		In the FY'06 Adopted Budget, DJJ anticipates a slight increase to the non-secure detention budget over the next few years due to changing operation costs.	The FY'04 Budget realizes $1.16 million in total savings of which $450,000 is tied to delays in non-secure detention contract renewals (each with 12 beds) and $1.16 from the elimination of two non-secure detention (NSD) contracts (25 beds).  In the FY'05 Adopted Budget increases the number of non-secure detention beds, to 176 from 153 with the following actions: the addition of 1 NSD contract for 12 beds and the implementation, of 2 previously delayed contracts for another 11 beds to comply with the Jamie B. settlement.  The FY'05 Executive Budget also provides funding for an additional 10 DJJ staff positions in non secure detention. On 5/12/04 there were 117 youth in non secure detention. During the first four months of FY'04, the average daily population was 111.
Houseparent title conversion and additional NSD staff		$312,000 $156,000 city $156,000 state $0 federal		Currently, staff who care for youth in non-secure detention are known as "houseparents" who work a 12 hour shift. The FY'06 Adopted Budget eliminates this title and replaces it with congregate care specialist. Because congregate care specialists only work an 8 hour shift, more staff are required. As a result, the Adopted Budget adds 10 positions to DJJ's headcount with an associated cost of $312,000 in FY 06. This expense will be covered by 50% in state funds, and 50% through an existing surplus in the agency's OTPS budget.

Secure Detention	$36.6 million $18.3 million city $18.3 million state $0 federal	$4.4 million $2.2 million city $2.2 million state $0 federal	DJJ runs three secure detention centers in the city for alleged juvenile delinquents awaiting their hearings in Family Court and alleged juvenile offenders awaiting trial in the Youth Part of Supreme Court. At present, there are three secure detention facilities in New York City, for a total of 400 beds. The facilities are called Bridges Juvenile Center (previously Spofford), Horizon Juvenile Center and Crossroads Juvenile Center.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $2.2 million in city funds to increase DJJ's juvenile counselor (JC) headcount by 200 bringing the total number of JCs to 522. This increase addresses persistent shortfalls in staffing that have led to low morale, high-turnover and high sick leave rates for the existing 322 juvenile counselors. Five data entry personnel are also added. The cost is split evenly between DJJ and the State which shares juvenile detention costs 50-50. The city's share will be funded internally through a combination of an existing surplus in DJJ's Other Than Personal Services (OTPS) budget and overtime savings derived from an increase in the JC workforce.	Until 1998, Spofford Juvenile Center in the Bronx was New York City's sole secure detention facility for juveniles. It was located in an antiquated building ill suited to provide appropriate residential care to juveniles. After ten years of planning, the city built two smaller state-of-the-art secure detention facilities, each with a capacity to hold approximately 125 youth. DJJ opened Horizon Juvenile Center located in the Mott Haven section of the Bronx and Crossroads Juvenile Center, in Brownsville, Brooklyn. That same year, due to the record numbers of juveniles being admitted to secure detention, the City opened an adult prison barge to house another 100 juveniles. The city gave up the barge in the fall of 1999 and secured $7.7 million in city tax levy dollars to refurbish two wings in the former Spofford building. This facility was renamed Bridges Juvenile Center and was reopened at the beginning of 2000. Bridges is an intake/admissions facility with a capacity of up to 150 beds. Bridges also houses youth awaiting transfer to facilities operated by the New York State Office of Children and Family Services.  After intake at Bridges, youth who remain in DJJ's custody for longer than 10 days are transferred to Horizon Juvenile Center or Crossroads Juvenile Center. The city had also been planning to build capacity for 200 new beds at both Horizon and Crossroads Juvenile Centers; however these plans have been postponed as a result of the removal of $56 million in capital funds from the city budget in FY' 02. The FY' 05 Adopted Budget reflected a reduction of 26 staff positions in secure detention for its food services operation.
Discharge Planning Services	$1.2 million $1.2 million city $0 state $0 federal	$779,000 $779,000 city $0 state $0 federal	Formerly known as the Community-Based Intervention (CBI) program, DJJ now uses these funds to provide discharge planning services to youth in care.	The FY' 06 Adopted Budget restores $500,000 to CBI's and includes a City Council add of $279,000 to enhance the program. In previous years, DJJ provided approximately 750 youth per year with both preventive and aftercare services. In FY'06, DJJ intends to use these funds solely for discharge planning services in an effort to connect youth with community-based services in areas such as substance abuse counseling, family and peer mediation, mental health, recreation and education prior to release.	In FY'01, the Council restored $479,000 and added $450,000 for Community-Based Intervention programs. In FY'02, the Council restored $929,000 for this program. The FY'03 Budget restored $750,000 for CBI programs. In FY'04, the City Council partially restored funds at $500,000 to fund preventive and aftercare services with 5 community based mental health providers (one in each of the 5 boroughs) and two youth service providers (Boys and Girls Harbor and the Police Athletic League). In FY'05, the City Council again partially restored funds at $500,000.
Re-estimate in Payments to the Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS)		($964,000) ($964,000) city $0 state $0 federal	The city pays 50% of the cost of placing youth from NYC in state detention facilities.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget anticipates savings of $964,000 annually beginning in FY'06 due to a projected decline in the number of youth transferred to OCFS detention facilities.	In FY'05, DJJ estimated $660,000 in lower payments to OCFS due to a projected decreased in the secure detention population.

This commitment follows through on a long standing agreement between the city and the state which called for the commitment of battery park city surplus, if any, to the development of affordable housing. At the time of the agreement, Battery Park City did not generate surplus. However, in recent years, surplus for BPC has averaged well over $50 million a year which until recently, was all diverted into the City's general fund. Administration for Children's Services(ACS)	$2.19 billion $601.07 million city $523.66 million state $1.04 billion federal $27 million IC	($153.6 million) ($20 million) city $27.41 million state ($210,064) other categorical ($14.08 million) federal CD (132.74 million) federal other ($13.8 million) IC	ACS is a mandated first responder - a 911 system for abused and neglected children in New York City. ACS investigates reports of abuse and neglect and responds to the immediate needs of children and at-risk families. The agency also provides Head Start and child care to eligible children and families. This section of the impact analysis discusses only child welfare program areas.	The total FY'06 Adopted Budget for ACS is $153.6 million lower than the modified budget for FY'05. Details on all additions and reductions related to child welfare services included in the Adopted Budget for FY'06 are provided below.
Child Welfare Services	$1.42 billion $405.18 million city $473.5 million state $540.1 million federal	($40 million) $7 million city ($3 million) state ($44 million) federal	ACS responds to needs of children and families at risk on three levels: preventive services, protective services, foster care and adoption services.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget projects $40 million in fewer funds for child welfare services when compared to the modified budget for FY'05.	There are approximately 19,000 children in foster care and 30,000 engaged in preventive services remaining at home. Because the foster care caseload has declined so dramatically and foster care providers rely on a daily rate of payment for board and care, over the past several years it has been incredibly difficult for the system to sustain approximately 42 providers. At the same time, while preventive service providers have been serving more children and families, funding for preventive services (including a COLA) has not grown. The Mayor's FY'06 Executive Budget advances proposals that begin to address these issues - by restoring essential funds to prevent reductions in foster care rates and preventive services, adding funds to increase rates of reimbursement, expanding prevention and after care services at the community level, providing a COLA for preventive and other human service programs, and focusing on the provision of higher quality services, improved oversight, limiting the use of congregate and residential care, and focusing on family based settings.
Protective Services	$148.2 million $20.2 million city $27.4 million state $100.5 million fed.	$5 million ($35 million) city ($13 million) state $53 million federal	Child protective services involve the investigation of reports of abuse and neglect and removal of children from homes that are deemed unsafe.	ACS investigates an average of 49,000 reports of child abuse or neglect each year. The Adopted Budget for FY'06 projects a $ 5 million increase for protective services as compared to the current modified budget for FY '05, allowing for increased safety of children.

Preventive Services	$205.2 million $60.5 million city $95.3 million state $49 million federal	$34 million ($3.5 million) city $39.3 million state ($2 million) federal	At-risk families are referred to preventive services in an effort to help keep children safely at home and out of foster care.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget increases the preventive service budget by $34 million compared to the FY'05 modified budget - not only carrying forward restorations from FY'05, but making significant investments to expand preventive and after care services at the community level. Detail on additions within the preventative service program area is provided below.	Today there are more children served in preventive services and kept safely at home, than in foster care. According to the agency, approximately 297 families participate monthly in the Family Preservation Program and there are also 9,885 general preventive service slots, 1,150 family rehabilitative program slots (for families with substance abuse issues) and 403 specialized slots (for families with special needs).
Cost of Living Adjustment (COLA)		$13.86 million $4.85 million city $9.01 million state $0 federal	Cost of living increase for preventive service workers.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $4.85 million to provide a 9% general raise increase effective January 1, 2005, a one-time $1,000 lump sum cash payment, a 3% compounded raise increase effective January 1, 2005, and a 2% general wage increase effective April 1, 2005 to be funded with productivity improvements.
Purchased Preventive Services		$22.4 million $ 7.8 million city $14.6 million state $ 0 federal	Preventive services range from intensive in-home crisis intervention services for high-risk families to less intensive services such as homemaking, housekeeping, home attendant services, parenting skills, counseling, and alcohol and drug treatment. ACS contracts with non-profit organizations in communities throughout New York City to provide preventive services.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget baselines $7.8 million in city tax levy support for general preventive contracts. This addition ensures the restorations made in FY'05 will be carried forward in FY'06.	In FY'01, the Mayor added $4.4 million and the City Council added $3 million for preventive services. In FY'02, the City Council restored $3 million for preventive services and this funding was transferred to DYCD. In the FY'03 November Budget Modification, the Council restored $6.8 million for general preventive and Beacon preventive services matched by $12.7 million in state funds. In FY'03, a reduction of $3.3 million was offset by increased state and federal funds. In FY'04 restorations to preventive services were tied to the City Council-Administration agreement to improve agency eligibility determination and claiming for IVE funding. In the FY'05 Adopted Budget, a restoration of $22 million in total funds was included to fully fund preventive services. An additional $45 million in city funds to offset significant reductions at the state level of TANF-Title XX support for preventive services.
Enhancement of Preventive Services		$13.4 million $4.69 city $8.71 state $0 federal		The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $4.69 million to support the expansion of community based support services to reduce child abuse and neglect.	Currently there are approximately 30,000 children in contract preventive services remaining safely at home with their families.
Aftercare		$13.3 million $4.6 million city $8.7 million state $0 federal	Aftercare services help support foster care children in their transition to reunification, adoption, and independent living.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $4.6 million to support services for children leaving foster care to provide stability in their transition and prevent their return to foster care.	Aftercare services are sorely needed to ensure that children in foster care can effectively transition to reunification with family members, adoption, and independent living.

Intensive Preventive and Aftercare Services for Adolescents		$5.2 million $ 0 city $4.3 state ($977,000) federal	The agency has released an RFP to provide intensive preventive and after care services to adolescents to both prevent placement in foster care and when placement occurs, ensure that essential services to aid in the transition to lower levels of care, reunification or adoption.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget shifts $1.7 million in city funds from the foster care and maintenance budget to the preventive services budget. This shift is made possible due to reductions in the congregate care census and it is cost neutral in terms of city expenditures. The shift of funds will allow the agency to maximize state resources for preventive and aftercare services, while reductions on the federal level result as federal IV-E reimbursement does not cover preventive/after care services.	Currently preventive services are targeted to entire households. This initiative will provide agencies with additional resources to better address the specific needs of at risk adolescents as well as adolescents in foster care who are being reunified or adopted.
CONNECT, Inc.		$ 1.2 million $1.2 million city $0 state $0 federal	CONNECT is dedicated to the prevention and elimination of family and gender violence and to the creation of safe families and peaceful communities.	The FY '06 Adopted Budget restores $1.2 million to the Connect Domestic Violence Program and includes a City Council add of $ 200,000. This will allow families at-risk to access needed services from CBO's within their own communities.	The CONNECT Domestic Violence Program was first funded in CFY '02. It was initially funded entirely with city funds ($ 1 million). In more recent years, other funding sources have been added to city funds allocated to this program.
TANF-Title XX Revenue adjustment State 04-05 budget		$0 $4.4 million state ($4.4 million) city $0 federal	TANF-Title XX funds have been used to support child welfare services.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget anticipates a savings of $4.4 million in city funds as a result of successful efforts to increase federal Title XX revenue claims. At the state level this year the SFY'06 adopted budget collapses $600 million in TANF funds into a single block grant -of which $264 million had been used previously to support preventive, after care and independent living services. With the new state block grant it is now up to localities to decide which TANF eligible programs they will fund. The state budget does include threshold language that requires localities to spend the same amount (either in federal or local dollars) on prevention that they had in the previous year.	The state has historically relied on TANF-Title XX funds to support a broad range of child welfare services. In FY05 the increase in federal funds was offset by approximately $38 million in reductions to TANF-Title XX at the state level. As noted above, the city stepped in midyear with additional city funds to make up for the loss of state support.

Adoption	$324 million $42.78 million city $126.8 million state $154.6 million fed	($26 million) ($5 million) city ($7 million) state ($14 million) federal	Children in foster care may be freed for adoption if parental rights have been terminated.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget is $28 million lower than the modified budget for FY'05. According to the agency, an increased number of adolescents are living in adoptive homes due to the agency's Family for Teens initiative which works to move teens from congregate settings to family based settings.	In 2005 approximately 35,000 children in foster care were living in adoptive homes.
Foster Care	$745.9 million $282.7 million city $224.5 million state $238.6 million federal	($49 million) ($51 million) city ($22 million) state ($78 million) federal	Children who are removed from their homes and placed in foster care may be placed with foster families (foster boarding home care), in group residential facilities (congregate care) or with a family member (kinship care).	The FY'06 Adopted Budget for foster care is $741.3 million, a decrease of $49 million compared to the modified budget for FY05. In general the vast majority of foster care reimbursement falls under a capped state foster care block grant (since SFY'06). For the past several years the state has also used $147 million in TANF funds annually to supplement or offset state contributions to foster care. In the SFY'06 adopted budget $1.5 million was added to the statewide block grant of $374.5 million to allow localities to increase rates of reimbursement for congregate care providers. Additionally, TANF funding that had previously been allocated directly to foster care services is now collapsed into a $600 million Flexible Fund for Family Services. It is up to the locality to decide which program areas will be supported with these resources.	New York State Office of Children and Family Services long contended that funds provided via the block grant, were sufficient to address the city's foster care costs because 1) the city's allocation of block grant funds remained constant over time and 2) the city's foster care census had declined. A closer examination of the block grant history and New York City's caseload tells a more complex story. (1) The allocation of state child welfare funds to New York City was not only subject to an initial reduction of $131 million when the block grant was established, but allocations to the city have fluctuated over the years (i.e, $335 million in SFY'97 compared to $197 million in SFY'03), and more recently, the city's allocation has been reduced by $24 million creating an overall allocation of $174 million in SFY'04. In FY05 the city added $6.6 million in city funds to offset reductions in the state's block grant.  Notably, a recent state supreme court decision Johnson vs the City of New York found that the formula used to distribute block grant funds to localities was "irrational and contrary to law" amounting to a shortchange to New York City of upwards of $100 million. While OCFS has abandoned the funding formula found negligible, the state has not compensated New York City for this loss to date.

CHILD WELFARE

PROGRAM/ SERVICE	ADOPTED BUDGET FY 2006	ADOPTED CHANGE + (-)	PROGRAM/ SERVICE DESCRIPTION	FY 2006 IMPACT	3 YEAR CUMULATIVE IMPACT
Foster Care Census		($82 million) ($58 million) city $0 state ($24 million) federal	The city's foster care census continues to decline and fewer children are entering foster care and the agency is placing greater effort on shortening the length of stay of children in care and investing in community based prevention.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget anticipates $58 million in city savings as a result of foster care caseload reestimates. The agency is using caseload savings to reinvest in preventive, after care, and foster care rate increases. In FY'05 an average of 19,700 children were living in out of home placement a 12% decline over 2004. In FY'06 the caseload is expected to decline another 11% to an average of 17,500.	The number of youth in foster care has dropped between 1998 and 2004 with 40,939 children in care in 1998 compared to 24,240 in care in 2004 year to date. Most of the decrease in children in care has occurred in foster boarding homes with a reduction of 16,094 children in care between 1998 and 2004 compared to a reduction of 605 children in congregate care between 1998 and 2004. In FY'05 $11 million in city savings were achieved from caseload declines.
Foster Care Provider Rates and Foster Care and Adoptive Parent Stipends		$19.4 million $11.8 million city $0 state $7.69 federal	Each year New York State sets rates of reimbursement for board and care costs of foster care providers with the expectation that counties will share in the cost of care (54% is split between the state and counties and 46% is supported with federal funds). The rates are based on a retrospective analysis of annual costs (two years back) and incorporate a 2 to 3% trend set by the state to reflect cost of living increases. Individual agency calculations are then compared to the state's maximum cost parameter and the lower of the two is divided by annual care days. 9+D24 This cumbersome and complicated process is used to determine the rate for each provider and is problematic on many levels - most importantly the rates never catch up to the actual cost of care.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget baselines $11.8 million in city funds for foster boarding home rates and foster care and adoptive parent stipends preventing reductions of 5% for foster boarding home and parents stipends and 3% for congregate care rates.	For the FY'03 adopted budget, an allocation of $12 million in city funds was made to increase the rate of reimbursement for foster boarding home providers. Also, in the November Budget Modification for FY'03, $4.5 million in city funds was restored to contract agency rates and foster and adoptive parent stipends - preventing a 3.1% reduction to both. In the FY'04 Adopted Budget, rate cuts to foster care providers and foster and adoptive parent stipends were restored for 6 months and were tied to the provider-city agreement to maximize federal revenue through improved claiming and eligibility determination. In light of this provider-city agreements and continued commitment to maximize federal resources the FY'04 restorations were eventually carried forward for the full fiscal year. The FY'05 budget restored $19.5 million in gross funds to prevent cuts to foster boarding and congregate care rates as well as foster and adoptive parents stipends.

PROGRAM/ SERVICE	ADOPTED BUDGET FY 2006	ADOPTED CHANGE + (-)	PROGRAM/ SERVICE DESCRIPTION	FY 2006 IMPACT	3 YEAR CUMULATIVE IMPACT
Enhanced funding for Flat Rate +		$10 million $7 million city $0 state $3 million federal	This new rate structure ties foster boarding home agency rates to EQUIP (Evaluation and Quality Improvement Protocol) and rewards providers for positive outcomes.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $7 million to support enhancements to performance based rates.	In December 2003 ACS established a rate floor of $23.50 below which rates for foster boarding home providers would not fall and tied agency rates to performance on EQUIP. The FY'05 Adopted Budget added $9.2 million in city tax levy funds to support the new rate structure. New flat rates range from $26 per day per child (or the current rate whichever is higher) for providers with excellent EQUIP scores to a rate of $23.50 per day per child for providers with low-end satisfactory performance and performance in need of improvement. In FY'05, 8 agencies received rate reductions, 6 agencies have rates that are held constant, and 28 receive rate enhancements.
Department of Education Residential Care		$6.3 million $3.8 million city $4.5 million state ($2.0 million federal)	ACS is responsible for the care of children placed in special institutional settings by the Department of Education. These institutions are often out of state schools for children with special needs.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral add of $3.8 million to support the cost of care and maintenance for non-foster care children who are placed by the Department of Education into institutional settings due to special needs.	ACS supports board and care costs for special needs children who have been placed institutional schools by the city's Department of Education. ACS has no control or say in the placement decisions of DOE but is held financially responsible for the board and care of these children while they are in placement. The FY'05 Adopted Budget added $17.2 million in city funds to support the costs associated with the placement of children in institutional schools. ACS estimates that there are 677 children in institutional schools, for whom care days are expected to increase from 110,000 to 130,000.
Congregate Care - bed closures		($32.7 million) ($23 million) city $0 state ($9.75 federal)	This initiative reflects the goal of placing children closer to their home communities in family like settings- to both shorten their lengths of stay in foster care and to expedite permanency.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget anticipates $23 million in savings in city funds by continuing efforts to reduce the agency's reliance on congregate care facilities in favor of family based settings. The agency anticipates shifting 800 youth from congregate settings and placing them in therapeutic foster boarding homes.	The number of youth in congregate care has dropped between 1998 and 2004 with 4,645 in care in 1998 compared to 4,040 in congregate care in 2004. The FY'05 Adopted Budget included $14.9 million in city savings from the closure of 600 congregate care beds in contract agencies and direct care facilities. This initiative began in FY'04 .

Substance Abuse Treatment Services		$8.77 million $5.02 million city $0 state $3.75 million federal	Approximately 70 percent of the children placed in foster care come from households that experience substance or alcohol abuse. While in care, teens in foster care are provided with substance abuse prevention and treatment services.	The FY06 Adopted Budget baselines $5.02 million in city funds for substance abuse treatment for teens in foster care. In FY'06, because of continued caseload declines, $2.6 million in fewer city funds are needed.	The FY'03 November Budget Modification saved $1 million in accruals in substance abuse treatment for youth in congregate care. Additionally, the City Council restored $2.4 million for substance abuse treatment (with a additional $3.4 million in federal matching funds) in the November FY'03 budget modification. In FY'04 the Adopted budget restored $1.9 million for 3 months of the fiscal year - this restoration was tied to the city-provider revenue maximization agreement which seeks to improve claiming and eligibility and to maximize federal IV E funds. This rev-max initiative is on-going. The FY'05 Adopted Budget restored $7.6 million in city funds for substance abuse treatment for youth in foster care protecting the program for approximately 5,000 youth.
Life Skills Training for Youth in Foster Care		$1.4 million $500,000 city $928,000 state $0 federal	Adolescents in foster care are provided with support services and skill building instruction to help prepare them for a life beyond foster care. These services and instruction include but are not limited to educational training, career counseling, and money management.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget baselines $500,000 in city funds for life skills training for teens aging out of foster care.	Approximately 1,500 youth each year (between 18 and 21) age out of foster care and are often ill prepared for independence and self-sufficiency as they lack basic essentials such as housing and job skills. In the FY'03 November Budget Modification, the City Council restored $500,000 for independent living programs for youth aging out of foster care, triggering the restoration of $928,000 in state matching funds. In FY'03, $151,000 in funds were eliminated for employment services to youth aging out of care. The FY'04 Adopted Budget restored $500,000 in city funds for life skills for 3 months of the fiscal year, the restoration was tied to the city-provider revenue maximization initiative which seeks to improve claiming and eligibility determination and in turn to maximize federal IV E funds. In FY'05 the restoration was also included in the final adopted budget.

Human Resources Administration (HRA)	$7.21 billion $5.27 billion city $1.05 billion state $890.4 million federal	$6.51 million $62,000 city $7 million state ($554,667) federal	HRA provides a wide range of emergency and long term benefits and supports for low income families including public (financial) assistance, medical assistance, food stamps, and shelter and supportive housing services for domestic violence survivors, people with HIV/AIDS and the elderly.	HRA's total FY'06 Adopted Budget is $6.51 million higher than the modified budget for FY'05. Detail on additions and reductions included in the Adopted Budget are provided below.
Family Assistance Payments	$852.28 million $213.07 million city $213.07 million state $426.14 million federal	($2.87 million) ($717,000) city ($717,000) state ($1.43 million) federal	Family Assistance (FA) is a city, state, and federally (TANF) funded public assistance program serving families with dependent children. Safety Net Assistance (SNA) is a state and city funded program that serves single adults and families and children who are ineligible for FA assistance including those who have reached the five-year federal time limit.	The FY '06 Adopted Budget anticipates $717,000 in city savings as a result of Family Assistance (FA) caseload declines. Decreasing unemployment rates (4.6% in March 2005) and the large number of families who have reached federal time limits on cash assistance have contributed to New York City's shrinking FA caseload. In March 2005, there were a total of 84,960 households including 139,165 children receiving Family Assistance cash grants representing a small decrease of 4,613 families including 7,062 children from March 2004.	New York City continues to aggressively work to move families from welfare to work. A recent initiative underway is the WeCARE program for households that exhibit barriers to employment. Through this new program, HRA will evaluate clients and identify barriers to work including an untreated or unstable medical, mental health or substance abuse condition or physical disability to determine employability. With the implementation of this program, HRA expects to be able to address barriers to employment that individuals face and either exempt or transition families to other programs, such as SSI, when appropriate. With the implementation of this program, HRA intends to continue seeing a decrease in public assistance caseload.
Safety Net Assistance Payments	$421.05 million $210.55 million city $210.55 million state	$18 million $9 million city $9 million state		The FY '06 Adopted Budget anticipates $9 million in increased costs related to the increasing number of families and individuals receiving Safety Net Assistance (SNA). Families who have reached the five year time limit on FA are transferred to the SNA program. This program continues cash grants at the same level as the FA program but it is paid for without federal participation. In March 2005, there were 40,047 households including 85,523 children on Safety Net Assistance. This represents a slight increase of 2,025 households from March 2004.

Emergency Food Assistance Program (EFAP)	$2 million $2 million city $0 state $0 federal	$1.3 million $1.3 million city $0 state $0 federal		The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $670,000 and includes a City Council add of $1.3 million in EFAP funding.	Continued efforts by City Council to enhance funding for food programs have not been baselined by the Mayor. Although food stamp usage continues to increase, families seeking assistance at food pantries, soup kitchens and other food programs also continues to increase. A recent survey conducted by the New York City Coalition Against Hunger (NYCCAH) found that more than 50% of food programs turn away hungry families with children and/or cut program hours. This funding (in addition to state and federal funds) supports 24 community-based organizations in all five boroughs.
City Sales Tax Reduction		($188 million) ($188 million) city $0 state $0 federal	Eliminates the city sales tax on clothing and shoes purchases for under $110.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a Mayoral initiative to eliminate this regressive city tax, enabling low-wage earning families to save more of what they earn. The initiative will cost the city $188 million (in lost revenue) in FY'06 and $166 million in FY'07. The state will sunset its sales tax on clothing and shoes purchased for under $110 after April 1, 2007.	New Initiative
Legal Services:
Earned Income Tax Credit Legal Assistance	$765,000 $765,000 city $0 state $0 federal	$765,000 $765,000 city $0 state $0 federal	Legal assistance and referrals to serve individuals eligible for the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC).	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $765,000 to provide tax filing assistance to families eligible to receive the EITC and to provide legal assistance to families erroneously denied this benefit. Funding will support programs at FoodChange, the Legal Aid Society and Legal Aid Services of New York.	First funded in FY '05, this program has provided legal tax filing assistance to families eligible for the EITC including families erroneously denied this tax credit. The EITC is considered to be the most successful anti-poverty program of its time. Over 800,000 families in New York City received the EITC last year. With the federal, state and city EITC combined, families can receive up to $6,000 in cash back during tax time.
Unemployment/SSI Employment Legal Advocacy	$2.5 million $2.5 million city $0 state $0 federal	$2.5 million $2.5 million city $0 state $0 federal	Expand legal advocacy for Supplemental Security Insurance (SSI) benefits and establish a new advocacy project for unemployment benefits.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget includes a City Council add of $2.5 million to fund Legal Aid Society and Legal Services of New York to expand the Supplemental Security Income Advocacy Project and to create a new advocacy project for unemployed individuals erroneously denied unemployment benefits. This project is expected to assist 1,300 individuals including families with children and youth.	New Initiative.

Citywide Civil Legal Services (Legal Aid Society and Legal Services for New York)	$2.75 million $2.75 million city $0 state $0 federal	$2.75 million $2.75 million city $0 state $0 federal	To provide citywide legal services to families with children, youth and single adults.	The FY'06 Adopted Budget restores $2.75 million to fund the Legal Aid Society ($1.375M) and Legal Services of New York ($1.375M) to support citywide civil legal representation and services to low-income families in the areas of housing, employment, health and; income maintenance among other assistance. These funds are intended to replace lost Interest On Lawyer Accounts (IOLA) funds. Funds can be used for direct client representation, legal advice, legal education; class action cases; pro-bono/volunteer lawyer programs and hotline services.	In the FY'05 budget and in prior years, these funds were used specifically to provide anti-eviction legal services. Funds can now be used for a variety of legal service needs including anti-eviction legal services.
Legal Services for the Poor	$1.3 million $1.3 million city $0 state $0 federal	$1.3 million $1.3 million city $0 state $0 federal	Various civil legal services for the working poor families and individuals.	The FY '06 Adopted Budget restores $402,000 and includes a City Council add of $894,000 in city funds for legal services that help prevent families from becoming homeless. $250,000 will be allocated to the following four programs: Northern Manhattan Improvement Corporation (NMIC); CAMBA Legal Services; Urban Justice Center and; Housing Conservation Coordinators.	The FY'05 Adopted Budget appropriated funding to support civil legal services. Funding for FY '06 represents an increase in funding for all four community based organization by $149,500. This program continues to provide working families with assistance in preventing eviction and foreclosure; improvement of living conditions and removal of hazardous housing conditions; housing code enforcement actions; tenant organizing; assistance to families seeking emergency grants or disability assistance; protection from workplace abuses; harassment of fair wage and hour laws; consumer protection from creditors, legal representation of domestic violence survivors, and recovering of illegal rent changes.
